

Highlights of the 2016 San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium

FEATURING:
Joseph Sparano, MD

APRIL 19, 2016 • 6:30 PM

The Hotel at Arundel Preserve
Details on back

FREE TO MDCSCO MEMBERS and PROSPECTIVE MEMBERS

MDCSCO
MARYLAND/DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA SOCIETY OF CLINICAL ONCOLOGY

You Are Invited to Attend the...

Highlights of the 2016
San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium

APRIL 19, 2016

6:30 PM~Reception (sponsored by Genomic Health)

7:15 PM~Dinner and Program

Dr. Joseph Sparano is Professor of Medicine & Women's Health at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Associate Chairman for Clinical Research in the Department of Oncology at Montefiore Medical Center, and Associate Director for Clinical Research at the Albert Einstein Cancer Center. He also serves as Vice Chair of the ECOG-ACRIN Research Group and Vice Chair of the AIDS Malignancy Consortium. His research has focused on developmental therapeutic approaches for breast cancer, lymphoma, and HIV-associated cancers, and clinical application biomarkers in breast cancer and other cancers.

The Hotel at Arundel Preserve

7795 Arundel Mills Blvd. • Hanover, MD 21076

Register at www.mdcscoweb.org under Calendar of Events or contact MDCSCO at 410.544.7558

MDCSCO

550M Ritchie Hwy., #271
Severna Park, MD 21146